

Niverville's 50th Anniversary A half-century of progressive growth!

On January 1, 1969 Niverville, by an act of the Manitoba government, was proclaimed an independent urban municipality – a "Village". Motivated to chart its own course because of perceived missed infrastructure improvement opportunities, the community requested separation from the RM of Hanover. Self-governance was seen as the tool necessary to allow priority in achieving community aspirations. Glaring project deficiencies driving this action were the need for street rebuilding and asphalt resurfacing, construction of a sewage collection system, and business and residential development.

As time progressed, community projects would involve enhanced emergency services, a Town water system, a seniors centre, parks, and recreational programming and facilities. Independence provided the framework whereby elected community leaders, using the Town's financial resources and planning services, would provide focused, creative and clearly defined goals meeting citizens' expectations.

Fifty years of determined, diligent and progressive efforts have resulted in the vibrant Town we now call home.

Niverville Wins National Municipal Environment Award

The Town of Niverville has received national recognition for its Sewage Lagoon On-Site Phyto-remediation Project from the Canadian Association of Municipal Administrators (CAMA).

The Town was presented with the 2019 CAMA Environment Award, in the Under 20,000 population category, during CAMA's national conference in Quebec, QC.

"CAMA is pleased to recognize the excellent effort and best practice being demonstrated by Niverville in decommissioning a sewage lagoon that had reached the end of its life," said Marc Landry, president of CAMA and City Manager for Moncton, NB. "This was the costly problem the Town faced in 2008, but they came up with an innovative solution."

Closing the lagoon meant removing and disposing of its sludge, but Niverville was looking for a sustainable alternative to the traditional option of spreading it on farmlands. Staff from Native Plant Solutions (NPS) and the Town of Niverville came up with the idea to treat the sludge on-site using plants.

Since this form of bio-remediation had never been undertaken before, it required support from regulators in the Province of Manitoba. It was essential that the project be backed by science, so NPS partnered with the University of Manitoba and Ducks Unlimited Canada to research on-site remediation of sludge.

To date, the Province has decommissioned one cell of the lagoon, and another cell is continuing along its remediation trajectory. These sites can now be re-purposed for public use, eliminating the need to spread on farmlands, and reduce the risk of phosphorus loss to surface water. Other jurisdictions are now looking to Niverville as an example of an economical and environmental approach to lagoon decommission-

Niverville Communities in Bloom

The Niverville Communities in Bloom recognition program kicks off on Sunday June 16th and runs to the end of August. Please submit your nominations for residential garden, local business, and Young Gardener to 0250shi@gmail.com. Scotts Canada gives special recognition with signage and a gift to the chosen residential garden. Photos of the residential gardens, business, or young gardener nominees may be used online and in other publications.

Watch for updates throughout the summer for featured gardens and exciting new projects at wheretheyoubelong.ca. Thanks to the Town Council, local businesses and especially the committee volunteers for their support of the Niverville Communities in Bloom Program.
